MARYLAND GAZETTE,

Containing the freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic,

WEDNESDAY, June 28, 1749.

N°. 218.

BRUSSELS, March 24.

PRIVATE letters from Liſle affirm, that the noted ſpy Fontauban was hanged there about three weeks ago, and that he obtained this ſort of death as a favour; ſince, by the ſentence of the grand provoſt of Liſle, he ſhould have been burnt alive, and drawn in quarters by four horſes, according to the ſentence of the French court; ſo that thoſe gazettes muſt be miſinformed, which gave out that he had been pardoned, at the interceſſion of the prince of Conti and marſhal Saxe.

Hague, March 27. If we may credit ſome private letters from Paris, the marquis de Puyſieux, who has great influence with the king, ſeems to be ſtrongly inclined to keep peace in the North; and his moſt Chriſtian majeſty has ſent a nobleman to London with a ſecret commiſſion, and another to Switzerland with a ſecret commiſſion alſo; which the public may ſuppoſe to be as important as they pleaſe, and admirably calculated to preſerve peace in the North, and elſewhere.

Moſcow, March 1. The college of war have notified the performance of all the orders lately received with reſpect to recruits. A great conference was lately held at the apartment of the high chancellor count Beſtuchieff, at the riſing of which three couriers were diſpatched, one with orders to count Lieven; a ſecond to Vienna; and the laſt to the governor of Riga. The Turks are making great military preparations in the neighbourhood of Conſtantinople; and it is thought the old pretender to the crown of Perſia will be ſent for from Rhodes, in order to be put at the head of that army which is to be tranſported to Aſia.

Vienna, March 16. It is now looked upon as a thing certain here, that the camps formerly mentioned, will be formed early in the ſpring; particularly that in Moravia, which will conſiſt of between 30 and 40,000 men.

Berlin, March 22. The diverſions of the court are regularly continued, and nothing is talk'd of there but operas and entertainments. It is however known, that two famous horſe-courſers at Hamburgh have entered into a contract to furniſh 6000 horſes for his majeſty's ſervice, by the middle of April. All licenſes of abſence are recalled. The great officers of artillery have received their inſtructions. We are aſſured from Mittau, that the ſtates of Courland will proceed to the choice of a new duke, by the 15th of next month. The military liſt lately publiſhed, demonſtrates our army to conſiſt of one hundred ſeventy ſeven battalions, and two hundred and ſeven ſquadrons.

Warſaw, March 15. General count Lieven, upon his arrival here, will find orders which he is not to open 'till the army ſhall be 15 miles beyond this city. What the nature of theſe orders is we know not, and yet we cannot help fearing that whenever the ſecret is diſcloſed, it will not prove very acceptable to us, or favourable to our views.

Extract of a Letter from Leghorn, March 9.

"The French troops have lately by a ſtratagem ſeized upon St Fiorenzo, and turned out the Corſican garriſon. They have ſince landed 600 men there, and ſeveral chefts of treaſure amounting in the whole to about 93000 livres. It is judged there are about 3000 regular troops in the iſland, and a good train of artillery: ſo that if the malecontents are not wiſe enough to make a good peace, they may run the hazard of being roughly handled at the very beginning of a new war.

Peterſburg, March 8. Orders are iſſued for raiſing 5000 more ſeamen to man the fleet, which is to put to ſea as ſoon as the ſeaſon will permit. Our troops in Finland conſiſt already of 36000 foot, and 9000 horſe, and reinforcements are daily ſent thither. The commandant of Riga has received orders to get a great number of tranſports in readineſs on the Duna, for an embarkation of troops, whoſe deſtination we ſhall probably not learn 'til after they ſet ſail.

Dantzick, March 21. By letters from Riga we learn, that they have erected large magazines in that place, for the Ruſſian troops that are deſtined to form a camp on the frontiers of Courland.

Ratiſbon, March 25. Letters from Vienna adviſe, that general count Schulemberg is ſet out for Moravia, in order to aſſemble a body of troops there, which they aſſure us will be taken into the ſervice of the empreſs of Ruſſia.

Venice, March 17. A treaty has been concluded by the powers in Italy for reducing Algiers, in which the king of the Two Sicilies engages to ſend ſix men of war under Spaniſh colours, to prevent giving umbrage to the Porte.

Rome, March 15. An expreſs is arrived here from Avignon with letters, by which we learn that the chevalier de St. George's eldeſt ſon, on the repreſentations made to him, had reſolved to quit that city; but we hear nothing about the place which he has choſen for his future reſidence.

Paris, March 28. A Levantine has lately brought hither three oſtriches from Africa, which are ſeven feet high, and carry a man on their backs, as a horſe does, with whom they will run 12 or 15 miles in an hour. Their daily allowance of food is between 35 and 40 pounds of bread, fruit, or greens and pulſe, but they never drink. They even eat wood, bones, iron, and ſteel, tho' ſome doubt the laſt.

Cologne, March 27. Letters from Weſtphalia adviſe, that great quantities of corn of all ſorts are buying up there, to fill the magazines belonging to the king of Pruſſia.

Madrid, March 11. His catholic majeſty has at laſt been prevailed on, through the preſſing inſtances of ſeveral perſons of the higheſt diſtinction, to releaſe M. de Macanas from his late place of confinement, and has ſent orders accordingly to the governor of the caſtle, not only to diſmiſs him, but to aſſign what apartments he thought proper, in any part of the city.

Peterſburg, March 16. There daily arrives here a great number of recruits, charged with the care of large quantities of ammunition; and we continue, without intermiſſion, our armaments both by ſea and land, to be in readineſs at all events; as our neighbouring powers are on their ſide making vaſt preparations for war, without our being able to gueſs at their motive.

Copenhagen, March 29. A few days ſince five ſhips ſailed by this place, laden with arms and ammunition for the king of Pruſſia's magazines at Koningſberg.

Stockholm, March 28. It has been reſolved to augment our ſquadron with 18 new galleys, and orders are iſſued for that purpoſe.

Mittau, March 25. All our advices from Dantzick, Berlin, and Hamburgh, ſeem to threaten the approaching encampment of two or three armies in Courland.

Hamburgh, April 1. Letters from Moſcow adviſe, that the 30,000 recruits which the empreſs had ordered were already raiſed, and gone to their deſtination.

Thoſe from Berlin are full of the great preparations making in all the dominions of his Pruſſian majeſty, the troops having orders to encamp the beginning of this month.

Moſcow, March 15. The general officers actually in this city, having received the empreſs's laſt order to join the corps in which they are to command on the frontiers of Finland, moſt of them are preparing to ſet out the 22d of this month at fartheſt.

Warſaw, March 22. The Ruſſian troops continue their march with all poſſible diligence: They have already left Cracow behind them, and ſome detachments of them are arrived in the neighbourhood of this city. They obſerve the ſtricteſt diſcipline, and pay ready money for every thing furniſh'd them, except lodging, fire, candle, and draw.

Leghorn, March 12. A ſcheme is ſaid to be on foot for attacking the town of Algiers by ſea and land, in order to ruin that republic: It was projected in Spain, and it is proposed to fit out a fleet of Spaniſh, Portugueeze, Malteſe, Neapolitan, Genoeſe, and Venetian ſhips, which are to attack Algiers by ſea, whilſt a conſiderable body of troops, which are to be aſſembled in Barbary, advance and attack it on the land ſide. It is pretended that the Ottoman porte, having received information of this deſign, had given orders for fitting out all their men of war and gallies as ſoon as poſſible; and that theſe orders had given riſe to the report, which has prevailed lately, that the infidels were going to attack the iſland of Malta.

Vienna, March 29. We have received advice, that on the 17th inſtant, the feaſt of St. Joſeph, patron ſaint of the houſe of Auſtria, the Reformed and Lutherans were forced out of five of their churches at Raab in Hungary, which the Roman Catholics immediately took poſſeſſion of: And that at Debrycen, a town ſituate between Tokay and Waradin, there has been a very ſharp ſkirmiſh on the like occaſion, between the townſmen and the Imperial troops quarter'd in the place, in which 200 men were killed or wounded on both ſides; and that they were obliged to march a whole regiment into the place, to put an end to the diſorder.

LONDON.

March 25. Col. Cornwallis is preparing to ſet out for Nova Scotia, being appointed commander in chief of the forces going there.

A great number of bombardiers and matroſſes will embark in a ſhort time, on board the fleet deſtined for the Baltic.

Many officers of the train have orders to be in readineſs; and a certain number of men, which have been diſcharged from that ſervice, will be taken into pay again.

We are informed, that a combined fleet of three great powers will appear in the month of June in the Mediterranean, in order to oblige the pyratical ſtates of Barbary to releaſe all the Chriſtian ſlaves belonging to thoſe nations; and to give the ſtrongeſt aſſurances, that they will be more punctual than of late, in the performance of their treaties for the future.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, March 21.

"The embaſſador of Malta had a few days ago a private audience of the king, and imparted to his majeſty ſome diſpatches he had received from the grand maſter of that order, ſetting forth, that the Porte ſtill appeared ſtrongly inclined to attack the iſland of Malta. Whatever may be in the wind, it is generally believed here, that a war in the Eaſt is become as unavoidable as one in the North; and that the Turks will fall upon the Venetians, and not upon the Malteſe, as thoſe knights ſeem to be ſo very apprehenſive of: But for the comfort of all good Chriſtians, it is likewiſe reported that the Perſians are going to renew the war with the Ottoman empire."

We hear that 40,000*l.* is granted for maintaining ſuch ſeamen and ſoldiers as ſhall think proper to ſettle in Nova Scotia, and for furniſhing them with implements of huſbandry for twelve months.

Extract of a Letter from Goſport, March 21.

"On Friday in the afternoon, commodore Townſend hoiſted his broad pendant on board the Glouceſter man of war at Spithead, and was ſaluted by all the ſhips of war in commiſſion: He is going commander in chief to the Weſt Indies."

From Vienna we learn, that the reaſons publiſhed by the king of Pruſſia, for getting his troops in readineſs to march, occaſioned an extraordinary council to be held in the empreſs queen's preſence; at the riſing of which a courier was diſpatched to Moſcow, and another to London: The next day the war-office iſſued orders for diſtributing tents to the troops that are to encamp; and the emperor, accompanied by duke Charles of Lorrain, ſet out for Holiſch, to view the ground for a camp which is to be traced there.

March 27. By a private letter from Stockholm, which may be depended upon, we are informed, That the conferences at court are entirely military; that count Teſſin affects to diſcourage all diſcourſe of war, in the midſt of preparations for it; that there appears to be a very large fund of treaſure provided for it; that not only the regular troops, but the militia, are more than compleat; and that the king is ſo much changed in his temper, as to talk of nothing but troops, embarkations, and encampments.

We have advice from Dantzick, that ſeveral ſtrangers of great rank are arrived in that city; and amongſt the reſt a Turk, who makes a very great figure, but nobody can tell on what account he is there. A fine houſe, ſuppoſed to be hired for marſhal count de Saxe, is now known to be intended for another perſon of ſtill higher diſtinction; and there are reports as if a very ſurprizing ſcene would very quickly open in the North.

March 28. As the call of the Houſe of Commons is appointed on Tueſday next, the 4th of April, it is hoped every member, that has any regard to the welfare of his king, or deſirous of preſerving his own and fellow ſubjects liberty, will that day attend his duty in Parliament, as affairs of the utmoſt conſequence to both are now depending; which, with every one that has the good of his country at heart, muſt have more weight to induce his attendance, than the fear of being taken into cuſtody.

From the LONDON GAZETTEER.

April 5. On Tueſday the young princeſs Louiſa Anne was preſented to his majeſty at St. James's, by her royal highneſs the princeſs of Wales.

By a letter from Peterſburg we are aſſured, that within the ſpace of five or ſix weeks paſt conſiderable numbers of Britiſh ſailors had entered into the Ruſſian ſervice, by which means their marine had been greatly forwarded.

On monday evening a young man, on his return to London, was ſtopp'd near Peckham gap by a gang of villians, who beat and abus'd him in a very barbarous manner, rob'd him of his money, buckles, &c. and to compleat their cruelty cut off his privities. He is ſtill alive, and is in St. Thomas's hoſpital, where all poſſible care is taken of him.

April 10. In anſwer to a ſmart memorial ſaid to have been ſent to the French court, on occaſion of the new ſettlements at Tobago, St. Lucia, &c. we hear the ſaid court has declared, that thoſe ſettlements were made without their knowlege, approbation, or conſent; that it muſt therefore be the act of ſome private perſons, countenanced and protected by the governor of Martinico; and that they would forthwith diſpatch an expreſs to the ſaid governor, with orders to bring off the people that have ſettled in thoſe iſlands.

Query, Could not the French court know, as early as we, that ſome of their ſubjects were going on a project, in breach of the treaties between them and England? They certainly might, and did know it; and therefore ought to have diſpatched orders to the Weſt-Indies, for putting a ſtop to ſuch proceedings, before our court complained of them.

As thoſe new plantations, according to the Barbadoes letters, were well ſenſed and fortified in January laſt, may it not be preſumed that they will be capable of making a vigorous defence, before the French court's expreſs reaches Martinico, which may be about the end of next month? And, if there be any ſtretch in the above declaration to gain time, the farce may be carried on after the governor of Martinico receives thoſe new orders. The people at Tobago, &c. may refuſe to turn out; and, before a ſufficient force can be got together to compel them, a new rupture may happen in this part of the world; and ſo the whole myſtery be cleared up, and England be bubbled according to cuſtom.

April 15. Letters from Moſcow adviſe, that the earl of Hyndford, the Britiſh miniſter at that court, has received orders from London to uſe his beſt endeavours for preſerving peace in the North; and 'tis thought he may ſucceed ſo far as to ſtave off a rupture 'til the fine ſhow at the Temple of Folly in the Gr—n P—k is over, provided that it be exhibited before the end of May.

By advices from Hamburgh of the 18th inſtant, N. S. we learn, that 20 more Swediſh troops are left in Pomerania than what is ſufficient for garriſons; all the reſt being actually tranſported to Finland.

Saturday the 6th of May is fixed for the departure of his excellency the earl of Albemarle for the court of France.

April 17. Yeſterday a great number of people went to view the machine in the Green Park, when the crowd was ſo great in paſſing through Spring Gardens into the park, that ſome ladies loſt the tails of their gowns, others their capuchins, hoods, &c. Some gentlemen loſt their ſwords; and one in particular loſt both the flaps of his laced coat. The whole made great diverſion; inſomuch, that ſome were as much aſhamed to ſhew their tails, as others their faces.

The ſame day a fellow was detected in picking a gentleman's pocket of a gold watch, at the top of Conſtitution-hill; and being carried before a Juſtice of the peace, was committed to the Gatehouſe: Which ſhews, that there were preſent, to view this grand ſight, ſome Rogues as well as Fools.

BOSTON, May 29.

Extract of a Letter from Amſterdam, dated March 3, N. S. 1748-9.

A war in the North is inevitable, as the politicians both at the Hague and here ſay, Sweden, Pruſſia and Poland, againſt Ruſſia, Hungary and Bohemia as principals; France as Auxiliaries of the king of Pruſſia, furniſhes 40,000 men, as by treaty just concluded; Great-Britain, as Auxiliaries to the Czarina, 30 sail of the line, as by ancient treaty, 18 of which are ordered to be got ready; and the parliament have added 3000 more seamen to the service. These Auxiliaries and other powers of Europe look upon themselves so much interested in the war, that they have done all in their power to prevent it: but the king of Prussia's ambition is not satiated, and having 169 000 fine troops, he is determined to force the election of the dutchy of Courland, in favour of his brother, and the Swede grasps for Finland and Livonia; however, it's tho't they'll be trim'd, as the Czarina is intirely prepar'd for them, and the empress queen's regiments, both old and new, will all be compleat this month, and all long to see that piece of a dancing master, the king of Prussia, taught to make a complaisant bow.

Last Monday, the Honourable GEORGE PLATER, Esq; of St. Mary's County, was married to Mrs. ELIZABETH CARPENTER, Widow of Capt. John Carpenter, late of this Place, Deceased.

Saturday last a Negro Boy belonging to the Governor, went into the Water to Swim and was Drowned.

We had yesterday in the Afternoon one, of the most terrible Thunder-Gusts, that ever known here in the Memory of Man; accompanied with a prodigious high wind, and a violent Shower of Rain. The Lightning fell in several places in Town; but did not, as we have yet heard, kill any Person or Creatures, nor do any considerable Damage. A Mulberry Tree on the South East Side of this City, about 30 Inches in Dimmeter, was split and set on Fire by it, and continued burning in a surprizing Manner for near three Hours; when it fell off the Bank on which it stood into the Water. The Course of this Gust was nearly from N. W. to S. E.

Annapolis, April 26, 1749.

THIS is to give Notice to all those who have any Bonds in the Loan Office, that if they do not come and pay the Interests due upon the same, on or before the last Day of October next ensuing the Date hereof, the Commissioners, in Discharge of the Trust reposed in them by the Public, will think themselves obliged to enter up Judgment, and sue out Executions on the same; and this they are determined to do, unless those who are concerned take due Care to prevent it.

By Order of the Commissioners,

R. DORSEY, Clerk of the Pap. Cur. Office.
